DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1,3,6,7 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Schmidt.

The roller tube on the shaft 1 rotates at a constant speed due the gearing R. Regarding claim 3, the speed of the roller increases and decreases during both raising and lowering of the shade. Regarding claim 7, a person operating the Schmidt device can direct the roller to be driven depending on the position of the lower end of the shade.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Will et al '634.

The '634 device uses Hall effect sensors to keep track of the position of the shade. Any manipulation of the counting is clearly an obvious design choice.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2,4,5 and 8-12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
